Zimzon Lelo is a Swedish TV Personality, Actor, Model, and Fitness expert. From the age of 6 Zimzon got involved in athletics and football (soccer) was the sport of choice and his first love. As he grew older he got introduced to many other sports such as basketball and boxing to name a few. He flourished in all sports but decided that he wanted to give football a serious try.

In early 2004, Zimzon got scouted by a team in England so he packed his bags in one hand and his boots in the other. Unfortunately, things didn't go as planned when he arrive in England and his football career ended due to a horrific knee injury. In addition to his injury, Zimzon went through other hardships struggling to maintain his athletic career while being homeless, sleeping on buses, and in the gym. Despite this very tough situation he has always kept his aspirations alive. He has come to learn good things can come out of unfortunate situations.

Zimzon was spotted in the gym by a photographer and was scouted to shoot photos which led to him booking jobs for the likes of Adidas, Fitness First, and walking the runway in London Fashion Week 2013. Zimzon was also featured in Muscle & Fitness magazine for three consecutive months in 2013 and was also the main feature in the video "Bom Bom" for Sam and The Womp - the song finished number 1 on the UK charts the first week of its release.

Despite all his success, Zimzon's passion for fitness never left him. In 2011, he founded ZimZone, his own health and fitness business which focuses on fitness, nutrition, and lifestyle consulting helping people understand the benefits of keeping fit and healthy from the inside out. In 2015 he also started From Nothing to Zomething an anti-bullying organization that supports and encourages children from under privileged areas to achieve their dreams.

Zimzon has also done a cameo on the BRAVO TV show The New Atlanta and is currently one of the main characters in the hit TV show Gladiatorerna (Swedish Gladiator) on TV4 in Sweden. Zimzon will also make his film debut in the film FREEDOM where he plays a young man by the name of Connor, A young man that has ambitions of becoming a bodybuilder but finds himself taking on a completely different challenge after a car crash drastically changes his outlook on life.
